

kwactiongroup@gmail.com

Kings Weston Action Group

Cut-out and keep 'Echo' Statue

This Eighteenth century classical statue once stood on a plinth inside the 'Echo', an ornamental Pavilion designed by the architect Sir John Vanbrugh in the grounds of Kings Weston House, Bristol. Last seen just after the war it has since vanished, and it's whereabouts unknown.

Help support the Kings Weston Action Group by joining our mailing list and helping us to protect Kings Weston Park and House, fight for their future, and protect their past.

